

Point of Care Health Services

Capability Statement

COMPANY OVERVIEW

POCHS provides reliable, rapid test results for multiple infections, including the much sought after COVID-19 virus and antibody tests – in addition to various viral vaccines – giving Americans critical and time-sensitive information quickly and securely. By utilizing experienced healthcare providers, the latest technology, and working with insurance plans, we afford employers the ability to implement and uphold COVID-compliant protocols and provide a safe environment for employees and customers/patrons alike a little to no out-of-pocket cost.
